“Whoever wants to be first must be last of all and servant of all.” (Mk 9:35)

As they were walking to Capernaum, the disciples were arguing about something and Jesus heard them.

When they got there, Jesus asked them: “What were you talking about?” They were ashamed and didn’t answer. In fact, they had been discussing which of them was the greatest and the best.

So Jesus had them sit down and told them, “Whoever wants to be first must be last of all and servant of all.”

Paul from Norway: The children at school made fun of Robert because he didn’t speak their language well. One day he started to cry.

Paul, who wanted to be his friend, asked why he was crying. He said it was because he had forgotten his towel for washing up after gym class and didn’t know what to do.

So Paul went himself and explained it to the teacher who gave Robert a clean towel.
